Secluded and elegant, Pomarance is at the centre of an area of incomparable beauty and landscape and natural interest. The town offers beautiful buildings and views, museums, theatres and shops, but its territory offers a real journey of discovery into nature: streams, forests, geysers, boiling pools - a gift from geothermal energy - coexist with the energy exploitation carried out, since the end of the 19th century, at Larderello and with the ancient Etruscan, Roman and medieval remains: an exceptional Tuscany, still intact and true, is in Alta Val di Cecina.
